

Christopher Campbell

Dr. Campbell received his medical degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and completed his plastic surgery training at University of Virginia with a fellowship in complex oncologic reconstruction and microsurgery at MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston. He is currently an Associate Professor of Plastic Surgery at University of Virginia, President of the Virginia Society of Plastic Surgeons, Trustee for the Southeastern Society of Plastic Surgeons, and Vice Chair of Innovation and Development for the American Society of Plastic Surgeons. His current research interests include patient outcomes after breast reconstruction and the use of biologic scaffolds in reconstructive medicine.